An Agreement to Vote.

It is obvious that Senator Beveridge and his associates have been overtaken by the conviction that the Foraker amendment is inevitable. That the Hamilton bill will have to be embellished with it or that this session will pass without any statehood legislation.

A little earlier in the game in the midst of his assurances that the bill would pass unamended, Mr. Beveridge took occasion to say that in no case would the Foraker amendment be accepted; that he and his friends would prefer to see the defeat of Oklahoma's aspirations. But in the meantime he expressed the most unbounded confidence to newspaper reporters in Washington and by letter to the handful of the joint statehood faithful in Arizona that there would not be votes enough to adopt the Foraker amendment.

His announcement less than a week ago that he would oppose a vote on the amendment until after one had been taken on the bill indicated that his confidence was oozing out. Such a test as he proposed might have been made but it would have been out of the order of things.

It makes a great difference so far as this territory is concerned which of the questions should be presented first. While there is no reasonable doubt that the Foraker amendment will easily carry it is not at all likely that all the senators who will support it would vote against the naked proposition of joint statehood.

There are a few senators to whom the admission of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory is the paramount question. The Foraker amendment would not necessarily obstruct their admission. Then there are still other senators not opposed to joint statehood in itself, but to whom the Foraker amendment appeals as a fair modification of the question.

Now that a date has been fixed for a vote on the whole joint statehood matter, bill, amendments and all, the hopelessness of bringing up the bill alone must have become apparent to Mr. Beveridge. If it could not be brought up within the next week or two it might as well not be brought up at all. He has evidently decided that defeat can be no worse than a natural death.

Joint statehood people admitting the probability of the adoption of the Foraker amendment have been wont to find consolation in the following shadowy program: The amendment is to be adopted; it is to be sent to conference; the senate conferees being appointed with that end in view will report in favor of a recession and that will be done.

There is no indication that anything of this kind will take place. On the contrary, it has been strongly intimated that the house having completed a disagreeable and dirty task has washed its hands and is ready to accept the Foraker amendment.

Barred Out by Bad Manners.

The perennial report that the Queen-Dowager of Italy is about to visit this country has cropped up again. This time she is coming to make an automobile tour of the United States. There is no doubt that Queen Margherita would like to visit America or that she would have done so long ago, if she could make the journey quietly. But that is out of the question. Royal personages can travel incognito in Europe without the least difficulty, but they can't in the United States, where royalty is a curiosity. The queen would be regarded and treated as a free circus from one end of the country to the other and wouldn't have a minute's peace, although she is really, except by courtesy, a private person, as much entitled to have her privacy respected as any ordinary tourist. It seems a hard thing to say but it is the simple truth that Margherita would have a wretched time of it over here because we are such a bad-mannered people.

The rule established by a club of five young women at Urbana, Ohio, that young men who call upon them "must sit on the opposite side of the room and not talk love," is clearly in the interest of single blessedness, but it is liable to be suspended by mutual consent.

One may become addicted to the bellyache so that any little thing may bring it on. It is in the system, so to speak. When bellyache is thus habitually recurring there can be no permanent cure, but those old reliable specifics, radium and absorbent specialties often afford temporary relief. That is better than to have bellyache all the time.

A driver of one of John D. Rockefeller's delivery wagons broke a dry hydrant in Kansas City the other day, and now the water department of the city is trying to collect of the multimillionaire a bill for $52.80. It is probably a higher rate than he has been in the habit of paying for a misuse of the water system.

Arizonians might in other circumstances be inclined to take issue with the suggestion of Senator Hale yesterday that the two western territories are not prepared for statehood. But as things stand now we are willing to let the senator have his way about it.

Professor Langley whose death occurred yesterday can by no means be regarded as a failure because his dreams regarding aerial navigation were not realized in his life time.

The indignation of an Iowa man who barely escaped being buried alive, is almost excusable, but no excuse can be found, in this enlightened age, for narrow escapes of this nature.

The royal wedding of Prince Eitel yesterday was a much more quiet affair than a late American marriage with which the country still echoes.

In the absence of a declaration of war the Chinese are evidently wondering at the extraordinary activity of our army and navy.

By the time the trial of Commissioner Garfield is concluded the alleged offense of the beef trust will be forgotten.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health As Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stomach or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, and flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One laxative; two or three are cathartic.
